Note: Effective September 23, 2010, federal health reform prohibited employers from discrimination in favor of highly compensated individuals set forth in Internal Revenue Code section 105(h). Enforcement of this prohibition has been delayed until associated regulations or other guidance has been issued and it is unclear when that may occur. Regence is unable to determine whether a plan discriminates in a way that violates the federal reform provisions, both because guidance has not been issued and because it does not have access to information necessary to identify highly compensated individuals. Because this element of federal reform is intended to fine employers with discriminatory plans, Regence recommends that employers obtain tax and/or legal advice associated with maintaining any plan provision that may prove discriminatory.
